KATARÍNA BOROVIČKOVÁ

Research Department

Federal Reserve Bank of Rich- E-mail: katarina.borovickova@nyu.edu

mond
Web: http://sites.google.com/site/katkabor
P.O.Box 27622
Citizenship: Slovak Republic, green card holder

Richmond, VA 23261

EMPLOYMENT Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond

Economist 2022 – present

Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, OIGI

Senior Scholar 2018 – 2019

New York University, Department of Economics

Assistant Professor 2014 – 2022 Visiting Assistant Professor 2012 – 2014

Education University of Chicago, Department of Economics

Ph.D. in Economics Aug 2012

CERGE-EI, Prague, Czech Republic

M.A. in Economics Dec 2007

Comenius University in Bratislava, Slovak Republic

M.Sc. in Mathematics Jul 2005

Fields labor economics, macroeconomics

Consistent Evidence on Duration Dependence of Price Changes

with Fernando Alvarez and Robert Shimer

R&R American Economic Review

Decomposing Duration Dependence in a Stopping Time Model

with Fernando Alvarez and Robert Shimer

NBER Working Paper No. 22188

R&R Review of Economic Studies, revision submitted

WORKING Job Flows, Worker Flows and Labor Market Policies

Papers R&R American Economic Review

High Wage Workers Work for High Wage Firms

with Robert Shimer

NBER Working Paper No. 24074

Risk Premia and Unemployment Fluctuations

with Jaroslav Borovička

A Nonparametric Variance Decomposition Using Panel Data

with Fernando Alvarez and Robert Shimer

WORK IN The Accelerated Failure Time Model: Estimation and Testing Using Price Change

PROGRESS and Labor Market Data,

with Fernando Alvarez and Robert Shimer

Publications "How Should the Graduate Economics Core be Changed?" with Jose Miguel Abito, Hays

Golden, Jacob Goldin et al, Journal of Economic Education (2011) 42 (4), 416–419.

LECTURING Labor Economics (NYU, undergraduate, Spring 2021, Spring 2022, Fall 2022)

Third-year Paper Workshop (NYU, graduate, Fall 2020, Spring 2021)

Aggregate Labor Market Dynamics (NYU, graduate, Spring 2015, 2016, 2018)

Intermediate Macroeconomics (NYU, undergraduate, Fall 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, 2018)

Elements of Economic Analysis IV (UoC, undergraduate, Spring 2012)

Grants NSF Grant with Fernando Alvarez and Robert Shimer (2016–2022)

Presentations 2022: Cornell, Women in Macro Conference, Barcelona Summer Forum

2021: LSE, U of Michigan, CERGE-EI, U of Munich, Wharton, Richmond Fed, NY Fed

2020: U.S. Census Bureau

2019: Chicago Fed, Minneapolis Fed, Queen Mary

2018: San Francisco Fed, Georgetown, Rochester, Rome, Stanford, SED Mexico, NBER SI Boston, Madison, Penn State, Ohio State, Columbia, Richmond Fed, Chile

2017: Atlanta Fed, Boston University

2016: Indiana U, ANU, U of Melbourne, SED, Cowles 2016 Summer Conference, 5th Rome Conference on Macroeconomics, Federal Reserve Board, Cleveland Fed, U of Illinois, U of Connecticut 2015: MN Fed, Midwest Macro St. Louis, Banco de Portugal, SED Warsaw, NBER Summer Institute, ENSAI Economics Days Rennes, MN Macro Conference, Econometrics Society World Congress, U of Maryland, SF Fed, Philadelphia Fed, MIT

2014: U of Michigan, Philadelphia Fed, Toulouse, University of Coppenhagen

2013: NYU search and matching workshop, SED Seoul, Chicago Fed, St. Louis Fed, NY Fed, UCL, University of Warwick, University of Bristol, Penn State, Yeshiva University, Cornell

2012: NYU, SED Cyprus, University of Chicago, Goethe University, IZA European Summer School in Labor Economics

Refereeing

QJE, American Economic Review, Econometrica, Review of Economic Dynamics, American Economic Journal: Macroeconomics, Review of Economics and Statistics, The Econometrics Journal, Grant Agency of the Czech Republic

Past The World Bank, Bratislava office, Slovakia, Consultant 2004 – 2005 EMPLOYMENT ING Bank, N.V., Bratislava, Slovakia, Research assistant 2003 – 2004